Why pray? What's the purpose? Does it really help? Is God really listening? This book is filled with purposeful prayers. One man who was passionate about prayer was James, the brother of Jesus, otherwise known as James the Just. In his letter (James 5:13-18) he spells out "when, how to and why to pray. He asks and supplies the answer at the same time: "Is anyone among you suffering? He should pray. Is anyone happy? He should sing songs of thanks to God. Is anyone sick? He should send for the church leaders and they should pray for him. They should pour oil on him in the name of the Lord. The prayer given in faith will heal the sick man, and the Lord will heal him. If he has sinned, he will be forgiven. So own up to your sins to each other. And pray for each other so you may be healed." James goes on to emphasize that "anyone who lives the way God wants can pray, and great things will happen."

That is the proviso. Prayer has a purpose. Step by step this book shows the reader how to be in step with God, how to live the right way. James talks about another great prophet who knew the power of prayer. "Remember Elijah?" he asks. "He was a man, no different from us. He prayed with great intensity asking God to withhold the rain; God answered his prayers and did not allow a single drop of rain to fall for three and a half years. It did not rain until Elijah prayed again for God to open the skies, when the rain came down and the fields of the earth gave fruit."

Therefore, the response is a resounding, Yes! It is important to pray and to pray with purpose.
